excerpt from treatment methods employed by organized charity in the rehabilitation of families unless we are to forsake our original purpose to regard charitable work as an effort to help people lead normal lives it is evident from this brief study that we must regard dependence as very much more than a condition of hunger and cold to be cured by food and warmth behind the hunger and cold is the absence from the family experience of one or more or perhaps all of the elements in normal life those who are dealing constantly with needy families know that hunger and cold are only the surface indication of deeper trouble parental ignorance unwholesome surroundings exposure to contagion are a constant danger to health children do not go regularly to school or if they do go they do not learn because they are suffering from needless physical defects uncertain employment means underlain living with its menace to both health and character stolidity de pravity ignorance and impassivity are barriers to even those limited spiritual in uences which a narrow life may afford about the publisher forgotten books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books find more at forgottenbooks com this book is a reproduction of an important historical work forgotten books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy in rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition we do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
