Nurse-Led Clinics 2013-06-17

in recent years there has been a huge growth in nurse led clinics within hospital outpatient departments general practitioner surgeries and health centres the government has endorsed the use of such clinics as a way for the public to access specialist health care and treatment more quickly and also as an effective way to manage chronic ill health however there is a lack of uniform structure in educational preparation for nurses interested in taking up nurse led practice and a dearth of literature offering practical guidance this text provides a much needed overview of this new arena for nursing and includes case studies from practitioners running nurse led clinics topics covered include setting up a clinic public protection issues nurse education managing medicines effectiveness and evaluation the text allows the reader to explore key practice issues which directly affect the quality of service provided it will be an invaluable handbook for nurses directly involved in running clinics for those responsible for the provision of nurse led services and for nurse educators

Pathophysiology and Care Protocols for Nursing Management, An Issue of Nursing Clinics 2016-01-07

nursing is an evolving profession that requires continued knowledge updates in formulating a foundation for practice in order to promote patient safety and satisfaction it is imperative that nurses monitor publications and increase their knowledge base each patient is different each care management situation requires an individualized plan of care these require the nurse to develop a personal framework for practice that continually develops from this information this mandates an evolving knowledge base which this edition will supply for nurses who work to deliver care that is research based and protocol driven this issue of nursing clinics will be both timely and relevant as it will combine two clearly important topics for nurses in care management pathophysiological updates as well as research based protocols that are important to continuity of validated evidence based care delivery this will give nurses across organizations the opportunity to see care from a perspective of patient wholeness and not truncate care in order to address total components with care reimbursement dependent on outcomes it is important for the nurse to see care as a continuum and not finite this issue will give nurses this perspective

Integrating Evidence into Practice for Impact, An Issue of Nursing Clinics of North America, 2014-07-31

this issue begins with an overview that distinguishes evidence based practice ebp and translation science followed by a description of hawaii s statewide ebp program that uses active and multifaceted translation science strategies to facilitate the rate and extent of adoption of ebp changes with one exception the remaining articles describe individual ebp projects from five different health care facilities that used the iowa model to guide their work each article includes an evidence summary a description of implementation strategies an evaluation of the innovation and lessons learned these completed projects were initiated between 2009 and 2012 address a variety of topical nursing issues and for the most part focus on preventing complications ie blood sugar elevations increased lengths of stay extubation failures noise related injury pain surgical site infections pneumonia restraint use delirium and fever an additional article describes the use of evidence to inform simulation based learning a possible strategy for ensuring competencies in and compliance with ebp interventions nursing leaders will come away with solid information about utilizing ebp to improve patient outcomes the hawaii program demonstrates that health care quality can be realized by employing the best available evidence and empowering the nursing workforce it also offers a glimpse of the care that the future nursing workforce could provide to create a health system that provides accessible affordable and quality care to everyone in the united states
