Connection 2007 in an age when everyone aspires to teach critical thinking skills in the classroom what does it mean to be a subversive law teacher who or what might a subversive law teacher seek to subvert the authority of the law the university their own authority as teachers perhaps are law students ripe for subversion agents of or impediments to subversion do they learn to ask critical questions responding to the provocation in the classic book teaching as a subversive activity by postman and weingartner the idea that teaching could or even should be subversive still holds true today and its premise is particularly relevant in the context of legal education we therefore draw on this classic book to discuss in the present volume the consideration of research into legal education as lifetime learning as creating meaning as transformative and as developing world changing thinking within the legal context the volume offers research into classroom experiences and theoretical and historical interrogations of what it means to teach law subversively primarily aimed at legal educators and doctoral students in law planning careers as academics its insights speak directly to tensions in higher education more broadly

Research Serves Colorado 1889 museums international exhibitions and china s cultural diplomacy examines the role museums and more specifically international exhibitions have played in shaping china s international image to date drawing on theories and methods from museum studies and international relations the book evaluates the contribution international exhibitions make to china s cultural diplomacy strategy considering their impact on the country s international image kong also probes the mechanisms and processes involved examining in detail the policy of and international activities promoted by the chinese government the book also analyses the motives of the chinese and overseas museums that host these exhibitions taking some major exhibitions that were on show in the uk during the 21st century as a representative case study the book reveals the mechanisms by which these exhibitions were developed and shared overseas questioning who really shapes the image of china kong challenges western assumptions and looks ahead to consider whether moving forward the chinese government and museums could work together in a mutually beneficial way museums international exhibitions and china s cultural diplomacy contributes to the growing literature on museums and diplomacy as such it will be of interest to academics and students engaged in the study of museums and heritage international relations culture politics china and wider asia

Statutory Instruments 1965 you can hardly open a paper or read an academic journal without some attempt to explain an aspect of human behaviour or experience by reference to neuroscience biological or evolutionary processes this biologising has had rather a free ride until now being generally accepted by the public at large however there is a growing number of scholars who are challenging the assumption that we are little more than our bodies and animal origins this volume brings together a review of these emerging critiques expressed by an international range of senior academics from across the social sciences their arguments are firmly based in the empirical scientific tradition they show the lack of logic or evidence for many biologising claims as well as the damaging effects these biological assumptions can have on issues such as dealing with dyslexia or treating alcoholism this important book originally published as a special issue of contemporary social science contributes to a crucial debate on what it means to be human this collection of articles by david canter and his colleagues rigorously argued and richly informative are of immense importance it is astonishing that as canter puts it in his brilliant overview of biologising trends there are those in the humanities who need to be reminded that human beings can talk and interact with each other generating cultures and societies that have an existence that cannot be reduced to their mere mechanical parts professor raymond tallis frcp fmedsci dlitt littd in the preface
